

JOINT HUMAN RESOURCES AND SAFETY & HEALTH COUNCILS

USPOULTRY, the National Chicken Council (NCC), and the National Turkey Federation (NTF) have formed joint human resources and safety councils. The Joint Poultry Industry Human Resources Council and the Joint Poultry Industry Safety and Health Council consolidate what previously were separate committees that addressed similar issues.

The objective is to enhance the coordination of industry programs in these areas. The industry faces common challenges to all three organizations, and the joint councils streamline their efforts and eliminate duplication.

The three organizations established the following goals for the councils:

- Provide a strong unified voice for the poultry and egg industry
- Promote information exchange between the associations and their members
- More effectively utilize industry and association resources
- Reduce the burden on industry representatives by combining the committees
- Each association may still address species-specific concerns
